The political weather cocks say it's a Democratic year.

The World War Soldiers who expected a bonus to help out this winter will, along with the rest of us pay $4,000,000,000 in tariff taxes instead.

Tax payers will most likely demand that the law allowing officers bonuses for each still captured be repealed. Captures are running into the hundreds in some counties.

State Affairs

A ringing call to the colors was issued last night by Senator Harry Flood Byrd, Chairman of the State Democratic Committee, when that organization convened at Murphy's Hotel to review the present political situation in the State, with special consideration of those districts where there is Republican opposition. An air of confidence and determination permiated the atmosphere. Speakers who addressed the meeting included Senators Claude A. Swanson, and Carter Glass, while former Governor Henry C. Stuart and Governor E. Lee Trinkle discussed the Ninth District in brief talks, each predicting Democratic victory in the Southwest. Members of the lower branch of Congress who responded to invitations to take the floor embraced J. T. Deal, of the Second; P. H. Drewry, of the Fourth; J. Murray Hooker, of the Fifth; James P. Woods, of the Sixth, and Judge Thomas W. Harrison, of the Seventh. Senator Swanson acknowledging his debt of gratitude to the people of Virginia for his recent handsome endorsement, foretold a sweeping Democratic victory in the next national campaign. Senator Glass paid glowing tribute to the memory and worth of the late Senator Thomas Staples Martin, complimented the committee on its selection of Harry Flood Byrd as its chairman, and spoke in high terms of the energy, loyalty and influence of Swanson at the national capitol, saying that he deserved to be re-elected by the people.

Captain C. A. McHugh, of Roanoke, has been appointed by Governor Trinkle to succeed himself on the State Industrial Commission. This appointment is shortly to be followed by a second, when the Executive names a head to the State Dairy and Food Department, now held by A. B. Thornhill, of Appomattox. Harry B. Smith, of Culpeper, was recently chosen by Attorney-General Saunders to succeed himself as State Commissioner of Prohibition.

A hearing on a petition for clemency in the case of the four members of the Allen clan serving terms in the State prison for shooting up the circuit court at Hillsville in 1913, has been set by Governor Trinkle for this afternoon at the State Capitol. The men involved are Sidna Allen and his three nephews, Friel Allen, Sidna Edwards and Wesley Edwards. The Governor will be asked to grant pardons for all four. Leaders in the movement for clemency include W. L. Joyce, of Stuart; W. S. Forbes, of Richmond; together with the following Richmond clergymen: George W. McDaniel, J. J. Scherer and Frank T. McFaden. The Governor is expected to take his decission under advisement.

Buckingham

Someone has said "Life is a vapor full of woes
Man cuts a caper and down he goes"

But we know that life is real, life is earnest, and the grave is not its goal. Dust thou art to dust returnest was not spoken of the soul.

Those who have been to Lynchburg the past week to hear Mr. Sunday preach come home interested with the man and his methods, preachers go to hear him, men who stand in their pulpits at their home churches who are so dignified, refined and unemotional go to hear this man of wonderful gifts preach and they too, get enthusiastic although I do not hear of any of them imitating Mr. Sunday.

Mr. John Peile (we call him Jack) died at the Western State hospital at Staunton, where he had been for only a short while he was an Englishman and when in health was an industrious man This is the 5th case where an old person has been taken to Staunton from this county when their health and mind gave way only to die in a very short time.

Dr. Charles McCulloch has decided to move away from the county and I hope sincerely that the change may be for his good, but I am sure it is not for the good of this county for him to leave it He is a fine doctor, good citizen and good man He has advertised his place of 1100 acres with stock, crops &c to be sold at auction on the 11 day of October

The county school board meets here on Mo day the 2nd day of October and the rural schools open the nex day Oct. 3rd.

Circuit court opens here on October 10th.

Miss Julia Trent Swoope was a visitor at Hill City the past week and she was delighted with Mr. Sunday's preaching.

Mr. Hubard Baird motored up last week from Richmond and took his sister Miss Clarke Baird back with him to spend sometime with Mrs. Marks.

Miss Sallie Brady got one of her arms broken in an automobile accident

Mr. Wm. Lee Patteson has improved very much in health lately.

Misses Mary and Jeanette Glover went to Lynchburg to attend Mr. Sunday's meetings.

Miss Fannie G. Haskins has gone to Appomattox to take charge as principal of Liberty Chapel school.

Mr. and Mrs. Wharton living under the shadow of Historic Spears Mountain have a nice home which they offer to share with some nice young lady who will teach the public school near their home and the school board will pay the salary o. k

Col. Wirt Robinson is building a handsome brick house near Wingina in Nelson county.

I met Mr. William Paulett in Scottsville, he is an old Buckingham boy and I was glad to see and patronize one of our citizens, he has a nice handsome business in Scottsville and he tells me he buys most of his lumber in North and South Carolina I saw Mr. C. Hobhouse Patteson another old Buckingham boy. He didn't know me near as well over there as he does when he goes to plead a case before me as a Justice of the Peace.

I want to remind the Justices of the peace that they have to report to the county clerk not later than October 5th all business done in the month of September and then make monthly reports each succeeding month and they should also call at the clerks office and get the new style fine book.

I have been remarkably successful of late in collecting claims as a Justice and have been complimanted by my lawyer friends. Some one told it on me that I collected a debt for him from a dead man easier sometimes to collect from an estate and in this case the widow paid her husband's debt and now she has another husband.

People still writing to me about schools saying they read in the Times Virginian that there was vacancies, we still need 2 or 3 teachers but we do not want any teachers who have no certificates.

Woodland

The Community singing school at Reedy Spring has ended and we hope it has been very beneficial to the young people of that community.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Howerton spent a portion of last week in Lynchburg attending Billy Sunday meeting.

Misses Alene and Lois Woodson have gone on a pleasure trip to Blue Ridge, N. C.

Beatrice and Bernice Woodson the twins of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Woodson are visiting their sister in Lynchburg.

Huge Fordson Tractor Show Planned For Richmond State Fair

Appomattox Motor Co., Ford dealers in this section, announce that the Virginia State Fair Association has alloted to them and to other Ford dealers, for the purpose of holding a Fordson tractor show 180,000 sq ft. of ground, the largest space given to any single exhibitor at the Richmond State Fair, to be held on October 2 to 10 of this year. This is indeed convincing evidence of the fact that Virginians are fully alive to the march of progress and perceive the evolution that has come about in both farming and industry during recent years through the universal application of tractor power. Here every piece of practical machinery that has been designed and manufactured for use with the Fordson tractor will be shown by the manufacturers themselves and the tractors necessary to operate them will be furnished by the Ford dealers. When we realize that a Fordson tractor can be used in combination with specially built machinery to perform more than 200 separate and distinct tasks, we begin to get an idea of the magnitude of a complete tractor show and complete is what this show is to be.

Over $2,000,000 worth of machinery and applia ces will be demonstrated and every piece of it will be seen in actual operation, doing the work for which it was designed in the manner claimed for it. Tractors equipped with locomotive wheels will be seen hauling fully loaded cars on a track constructed for the purpose. Other tractors will operate rock crushers and lime stone pulverizing machinery, others will run sawmills in which huge logs will be quickly reduced to planks of standard commercial sizes and still others will operate well drillers, turn separators, operate orchard spraying machinery, haul road making and maintaining machinery and do any manner of practical and useful things which lack of space will not permit us to enumerate

Though this is to be primarily an exhibit of mechanical power and mechanical contrivances, nevertheless the fact that people come to a State Fair to revel in the holiday spirit that pervades there is not being lost sight of by those having the details of the show in charge. There will be many novel attractions and diversions, but just what they are the Ford dealers will not disclose. They wear a mysterious and knowing air, and state with a chuckle that a surprise is in store for all who attend.

The whole atmosphere and spirit of the show will be one of good fellowship and helpfulness. Nothing will be too much trouble to explain or demonstrate, and those who go there with no other motive than to keep abreast of the march of progress will be equally as welcome as those who go seeking a Fordson solution of their preplexing power problems.

Forest View

Mr. and Mrs Hezekiah Ford of Madison Heights, Mr. and Mrs. R W. Martin, and T. H Ford spent a very enjoyable day at the home of their brother, W. L. Ford, on the 10th A sumptuous dinner was served. All of his brothers and sisters were present except one, Leonard Ford, of Lynchburg.

Friday morning about 2 o'clock our town was visited by yeggmen. The town was in darkness and when the alarm was given that robbers were in the postoffice, the Sheriff and several aids soon gathered and thought sure they would capture the robber, but the postmaster approached in the dark and was taken to be one of the robbers for a while and came very near being fired on While thus engaged it is thought the robbers made their escape. Locks were broken and the safe door was blown open and about $20 in stamps taken off. An opportunity was lost to capture a bad gang and postmaster Irby is grieving that he approached the watchers, thereby affording the thieves a chance to escape. It is said that robbers are traveling in an old Ford car. The shop of Gus Farrar was broken into and his tools were used in drilling and blowing the safe. We think the robber left immediately after the explosion before any one arrived on the scene through the back door.

The Appomattox Fair Association is making plans for a very large exhibit at the coming Fair. Dates are October 18 to 20. The Secy has arranged for an entirely new set of performances on the midway having contracted this week with the Royal Exposition Shows of Kentucky, a new merry-go-round, ferris wheel and six or eight high class shows. He authorizes no gambling on the grounds. The admission is 75 cents and this will admit to the grounds and also the racing. A very large attendance is expected. 9 27 3
